

Passenger van donated to ATA

ANGUILLA—The Anguilla Tennis Academy continues to receive support from local, regional and international donors. Recently Bob Slap from California donated a seven passenger minivan that was greatly needed for transportation of tennis players.

Slap said, “I am pleased to support the noble efforts of Mitchelle Lake towards the development of children through the sport of tennis. His commitment to the project and children over the past ten years has prompted me to support this cause. I trust that the people will continue to support this worthwhile endeavour.”

Lake said that the project is coming about through generous donations and the children will certainly reap the benefits of the new van. “I truly thank Mr Slap on behalf of the Anguillian community for his generous contribution,” Lake said. He also thanked Sheila Haskins of Tropical Shipping for her assistance in getting the van to Anguilla.

Lake says that the construction of the tennis facility at Blowing Point is proceeding well and he thanks the many persons who have been involved in making it happen. He stated that recently Bob Johnson of BET and Edgar Bronfman of Warner Music Group agreed to match US$500,000 against the pledge commitments of the Anguillian community over the next five years.
